Why Pay the Peddler or Canvasser Twice These Prices?

You can save a good deal of money by buying your stock tonic at this store, instead of paying the peddler big, fancy prices for goods of unknown quality. Look at these prices for that old reliable and guaranteed stock conditioner and worm expeller—

Dr. Hess Stock Tonic

25-lb. pail costs $2.25
100-lb. drum costs $7.00

Remember, we have no peddler's wagon and horses' expenses to pay. That's why we can sell you Dr. Hess Stock Tonic at these rock-bottom prices.

Here is another point, Mr. Farmer, we want to emphasize, that is: Dr. Hess Stock Tonic is highly concentrated; it goes farther, as the small dose quantity proves. Dr. Hess Stock Tonic is to put your animals in a thriving condition, make the sick ones healthy and expel the worms—otherwise you get your money back right here at our store. We also handle—

Dr. Hess Dip and Disinfectant
Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a
Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer

Board of Pension Commissioners

Special Arrangements Being Made to Facilitate Handling of Pensions

The Dominion Government have appointed a Board of Pension Commissioners for Canada with offices in Ottawa. As this Board wish to cause as little delay as possible in dealing with communications with regard to pensions, they wish the public to correspond directly with the Board of Pension Commissioners, Ottawa.

A great deal of delay may be caused by communications being sent through other Departments of the Government.

The Patriotic Fund Association and the Military Hospitals Commission have kindly consented to give information and assistance to those wishing to direct to the Board of Pension Commissioners. These societies have offices in certain localities throughout Canada.

In addition in order to facilitate the granting of pensions, the Board is opening Branch Pension Offices in Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg, London, Hamilton, Toronto, Barrie, Kingston, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec, St. John and Halifax. All information with regard to pensions may be obtained from these offices.

With so thorough a preparation at hand, as Miller's Worm Powders, the mother who allows her children, to suffer from the ravages of worms is unwise and culpably careless. A child subjected to the attacks of worms is always unhealthy and will be stunted in its growth. It is a mercurial act to rid of these destructive parasites, especially when it can be done without difficulty.

Some Contract

"I have come here," said the angry man to the superintendent of the street car line, "to get justice; justice sir. Yesterday, my wife was getting off one of your cars the conductor stepped on her dress and tore a yard of frilling off the skirt."

The superintendent remained cool. "Well, sir," he said, "I don't know that we are to blame for that. What do you expect us to do? Get her a new dress?"

"No, sir. I do not intend to let you off so easily as that," the other man replied gruffly. He brandished in his right hand a small piece of silk.

"What I propose to have you do," he said, "is to match this silk."—New York Times.

Sudan Grass Pastures

Good Pasture Can Be Maintained During the Early Summer

Sudan grass is a quick, sure, and very nourishing pasture for pigs and calves.

Last spring, quite late, I sowed several acres broadcast, and in spite of a very protracted drought, the plant made a remarkable growth. Pigs and calves were turned in when the grass was about three and one-half feet high. The stock ate it ravenously, making a splendid gain. After the crop was well eaten down, the stock were transferred to another pasture, and in three weeks the second crop was again ready for them. By having two fields, sowing one two weeks before the other, and changing the stock from one pasture to the other as the crop is grazed, a first-class pasture can be maintained during the entire summer.

My experience during the past two years with Sudan grass convinces me that it is one of the most drought-resistant crops grown either for hay or pasture.—Exchange.

To Every Woman Who Is In Pain

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS USE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Suffered for Two Years, But Three Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills Made Her a New Woman.

Adamsville, Kent Co., N. B. (Specialist)—"I can recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every woman who suffers." So says Mrs. Williams, a well-known and highly respected lady residing here. Mrs. Williams was a sufferer for two years till she used Dodd's Kidney Pills. She found in them quick relief and complete cure. That is why she is so enthusiastic in her praise of them.

"My troubles started with a cold," Mrs. Williams states. "I never seemed to get over the effects of it. I had cramps in my muscles and my joints were stiff. There were dark circles under my eyes which were puffed and swollen. I had a bitter taste in my mouth and I suffered from severe headaches."

"I felt heavy and sleepy after meals, and had attacks of neuralgia, heart fluttering and rheumatism were soon added to my troubles. I took just three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. I cannot be too glad that I did so."

Every one of Mrs. Williams' symptoms was a symptom of kidney disease. That is why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

Professor Fudge.—What do you mean, Mr. Jones, by speaking of Dick Wagner, Ludie Beethoven, Charlie Gounod and Fred Handel?

Jones—Well, you told me to get familiar with the great composers.

The German Idol

Hindenburg Eclipse the Kaiser in Eyes of Germans

The extent to which Hindenburg is eclipsing the German Emperor is being much remarked upon throughout Germany, says the Zurich correspondent of the Central News. It is Hindenburg who has the courage to tell the German people that their production of munitions is being overtaken by the Allies; it is Hindenburg, not Hohenzollern, who, after two and a half years of warfare, demands of the German people the great sacrifice of the levy en masse. The Kaiser, at this critical of all moments, is content to remain in the background, leaving Hindenburg to command not only "my armies," but also "my people."

Not all the blood of the Hohenzollerns has been able to save the Emperor William from eclipse at this supreme crisis.

At the present moment Hindenburg appears in German eyes as Bismarck and Moltke rolled into one. "Hindenburg has succeeded," says a manifesto issued by the German Union of Agriculturists, "and with him and by him all the German people have confidence in the agriculturists."

Not only the Kaiser himself, but the whole Hohenzollern dynasty is suffering eclipse as a result of this great war which now clearly threatens the downfall of Prussian militarism. I hear on every side that, especially since his ignominious failure at Verdun, the Crown Prince is spoken of everywhere in Germany in terms of contempt.

A British Way

Jerome J. Jerome, the English author, writes of addressing an audience of British soldiers returned from the front, when he paid certain compliments to the enemy's valor. His auditors applauded. If he had said the same things to a meeting of civilians, he writes, he would have been hissed and booed from the stage.

The Britisher in that feels an obligation, often the legacy of former experience on the playing field, to give the enemy, the opponent, credit where credit is due him. Frequently it may be noted that the spectator is more bitterly or blindly partisan than the player who starts his colors. In his official report after the football battle, it will be recalled, Admiral Jellicoe paid the enemy an unusually warm compliment for his bravery at one point in the conflict.—Ottawa Journal.

PALE, FEEBLE GIRLS

Weakness Generally Comes On As Womanhood Approaches

Girls upon the threshold of womanhood often drift into a decline in spite of all care and attention. How often one sees girls who have been strong and lively become suddenly weak, depressed, irritable and listless. It is the dawn of womanhood—a crisis in the life of every girl—and prompt measures should be taken to keep the blood pure and rich with the red tint of health. If the blood is not healthy at this critical stage the body is weakened and grave disorders follow. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have saved thousands of young girls from what might have been lifelong invalidism or an early death. They are a blood-builder of unequalled richness, strengthening weak nerves and producing a liberal supply of red, healthy blood which every girl needs to sustain her strength.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have proved their great value over and over again to young women whose health was failing. Miss A. Sternburg, Halleybury Road, New Liskeard, Ont., says: "I have much reason to be grateful to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they restored me to health, if, indeed, they did not save my life. In 1914 I began to feel run down, and the doctor who was called in said that mine was a bad case of anemia. I lost flesh, always felt tired, and I got so nervous that I could scarcely hold a cup to take a drink. My heart would flutter alarmingly. The doctor did not seem to be able to help me at all and my family and friends all thought that I was in a decline and could not recover. I was in bed for some weeks when an aunt came to see me and urged that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My father got a supply, and by the time I had taken three boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and from that on I steadily progressed toward recovery. I continued using the pills for some time longer and my health and strength. I shall never cease to praise this medicine, and to urge all weak run down girls to give it a fair trial as I have proved in my own case their great merit."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mid-Summer

As the oats in her hat nodded and trembled they persistently tickled the ear of the man seated next to her. He stood it in silence for some time, then he ostentatiously took a huge pocket knife out of his pocket and began to sharpen it on the sole of his boot.

"Whatever are you g-g-going to do?" gasped the girl.

"Oh, don't you worry miss," said the man, testing the edge of the blade on his thumb. "But the next time as them oats gets in my ears there's going to be a harvest."—Chicago Daily News.

The Wrong Man

The citizen gazed helplessly at the piles of drifted snow that lay on the sidewalk in front of his home.

"What would you take to clean this walk?" he asked the first man who came along.

"A shovel, mister," responded the fellow as he plodded on his way.

"I HEAL SORES"

To heal sores, does not mean to heal over the outer skin, only to have the sores break out again. Real healing means going to the root of the trouble and curing from the base upward. That is the way Zam-Buk heals, and that is why Zam-Buk cures are lasting.

Zam-Buk as soon as applied to a sore, commences three processes. It soothes the pain by drawing out the inflammation. Being a strong germicide, it thoroughly cleanses the sore by destroying all germs, and then by its marvellous healing power, it promotes the growth of new, healthy tissue. As the new tissue gradually develops, it casts off the old, until the diseased patch is replaced by new, healthy flesh.

Effectuated by this unique method of healing, Zam-Buk cures are thorough and permanent. Send this article and 1c stamp for return postage to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, and we will send you a free trial box.

The Breaking Dawn

We look forward with hope across the immediate future of rid of suffering, of losses which still for a while continue, towards the edifice of future international peace and freedom, whose outlines at last shine bright and definite through the mists of the breaking dawn.—London Chronicle.

Artificial Milk

A process has been discovered in England for the manufacture of artificial milk for human consumption. It is claimed that a wholesome, and inexpensive substitute can be made from peanuts, soy beans, sugar, water, and the mineral salts found in milk. The milk so produced, it is stated, may be condensed and sold in tins in the usual way or dried to a powder and sold in bottles. It may be given a certain percentage of cream by the addition of coconut or one of the other tasteless nut fats.

The residual meals, rejected after the special factors required have been taken from them, are mixed, dried until they contain only ten per cent. of water and then sold as cattle feed. As a curiosity, the milk thus produced would be interesting, though it is questionable whether it would prove an acceptable substitute.

Manitoba Seed Exchange

A seed Exchange Bureau was organized a short time ago by the Field Husbandry Department of Manitoba Agricultural College, with the idea of accepting samples of seed representative of lots that farmers would have for sale, and, after testing and examining them for germination and purity, file them for reference and supply to any subsequent enquirer, information as to the names and addresses of farmers holding such seed for sale. A large response has been made, and the college is now ready to supply lists of growers of good quality seed.

What Britain Has Done

Hear the words of Mr. Lloyd George on the new British army: "They have faced the greatest army in the world, the greatest army the world has ever seen, the best equipped and the best trained, and they have beaten them, beaten them, beaten them." The "flannelled fool at the wicket and the muddled oaf at the goal," the "Essex yokel," and the "Kensington draper"—these have done this deed, these have won the day for Britain. And yet three years ago not only Germany, but many other nations, believed the British people had degenerated and were unworthy of their mighty traditions and glorious past.—London Chronicle.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear, or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the Eustachian tube. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. J. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Tree Planting

Planting a Thousand Trees a Day by Machinery

A machine, originally designed to facilitate the work of setting out tomato and cabbage plants, is being used to plant trees in New York State under the supervision of the Forest Service. From 10,000 to 15,000 forest tree seedlings are planted in a day's time with this machine. The contrivance is of about the same proportions as a mowing machine and requires the services of three men and two horses. One man drives while the other two handle the seedlings. In operation, the machine makes a furrow into which the small trees are "dropped" at regular intervals governed by an automatic space. As this is done, a pair of rollers replace the dirt about the roots, which are mechanically supplied with water and fertilizer. A marker draws the line on which the next row of trees is to be planted as the machine travels along.

Britain's New Problem

In spite of all warnings that it was unwise in the extreme for wives and families of Canadian soldiers to follow their husbands and fathers to sea, it is estimated there are now over 50,000 of these dependents there causing uneasiness. There are two disquieting views of the situation: First, the fact that it means so many more mouths to feed in the old country at a time when economy in food consumption is essential, second, that the transportation of these people back to Canada at the end of the war will be a problem that steamship companies confess themselves unable to solve.—London Advertiser.

Penetang (Ontario) Child Once so Thin and Delicate, Cured by Dr. Cassell's Tablets

MRS. JARVIS, BOX 286, PENETANG, P.O., ONTARIO, says: "I thought poor baby could live, but one day I chanced to hear of a baby's case almost like mine."

My baby had been cured by Dr. Cassell's Tablets, so I got some for my baby, and I am thankful I did. After a few days the nervous jumps he had suffered from stopped, and soon he was almost well. I have given him the Tablets during feeding, and his baby very soon became a healthy, happy, and quite cured, and he weighed ten pounds. We never had a month old."

Every mother should know that Dr. Cassell's Tablets are just as suitable for children as they are for grown-up people. Their splendid nutritive and vitalizing properties overcome any tendency to nervousness or weakness in the little ones, and lay the foundation of a strong constitution for after years.

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are Nutritive, Restorative, Alterative, and Anti-Spasmotic, and the recognized remedy for Nervous Breakdown, Sleeplessness, Mal-nutrition, Hives, Paralysis, Amnesia, Wasting Diseases, Infantile Weakness, Kidney Trouble, Palpitation, Neurasthenia, Dyspepsia, Vital Exhaustion, and during the Special Period of Life. Especially valuable for nursing mothers and during the Critical Period of Life.

Sold by Druggists and Storekeepers throughout Canada. Price: One bottle 25 cents, six bottles for the price of five. Write for free literature to Dr. Cassell & Co., Ltd., 6, Bedford Square, London, W.C.1, England.

Canada Stands Prepared To Continue Full Assistance

Bank of Montreal Meeting Marked by Striking References to Part Played by Dominion, and Lays Down Policy for Country's Guidance—Campaign of Thrift Strongly Urged.

MONTREAL.—Canada's position in the great European war—the policy the Dominion should follow in order to be all the better prepared for post-war conditions—the resolve of the country to continue to give, in youth and money, full assistance to the great cause were among some of the outstanding features of the 99th Annual Meeting of the shareholders of the Bank of Montreal, held at the head office.

The importance of the announcements made and their bearing on conditions that the Dominion would most likely have to meet seemed to impart a special significance to the meeting, and the shareholders were quick to give their hearty support to the suggestions firmly offered by Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., President, and Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, the General Manager.

There was no misunderstanding the firmness of the suggestions, as it was clearly shown that many of the conditions that prevailed in the country were purely of a temporary character, and what was most important was to get ready for the time when normal conditions only might exist.

In this connection it was pointed out that all efforts should be centered on the attainment of three objects, viz.: Economy, Production and Immigration, but at the same time a note of confidence was struck as to the ability the country would show in dealing with any new problems that might present themselves.

Sir Frederick made special mention of the record of the Staff of the Bank of Montreal overseas, saying: "As for the Bank of Montreal contingent with the colors, I have no words sufficiently eloquent where with to fully express our pride in their achievements, our grief in their losses. Forty-eight per cent. of our total male staff, or 67 per cent. of those of military age, have enlisted, 51 of our best have been killed and 107 are wounded, missing or prisoners of war. Several of our men have been decorated by the King for conspicuous valor, and the whole contingent is illustrious."

A very cordial demonstration was given by the shareholders when Mr. Yuile, on their behalf, asked to be allowed to especially compliment Sir Vincent Meredith on the great honor which had been conferred upon him during the course of the past year in being created a baronet. Mr. Yuile pointed out that this was regarded by the shareholders not as an honor to Sir Vincent alone, but to the Bank as well, and the honor conferred was alike popular with the shareholders and the public generally.

The vacancies on the Board of Directors were filled by the election of Captain Herbert Molson, of Montreal, and Mr. Harold Kennedy, of Quebec. At the first meeting of the new Board of Directors, Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., was re-elected President, and the Vice-Presidency, which had been vacant for the past few years, was re-established by the appointment of Mr. C. B. Gordon, President of the Dominion Textile Co.

Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., President, in referring to the principal developments of the year, and the plans that should be laid to cope with them, said in part: "I hoped when I last had the pleasure of addressing you that before this Annual Meeting the end of the cruel and devastating war which has convulsed Europe would be, if not reached, at least within measurable distance. In this expectation we have been disappointed."

"These are two obvious means of lightening Canada's coming burden, viz. thrift and immigration. The two are closely allied, for only by practicing national and personal economy or thrift can we reduce our high cost of living—that most effective barrier to immigration. Upon immigration we mainly depend for the fuller development of our unsurpassed natural resources."

"Thrift is overdue, but can be started forthwith; immigration must wait, but should follow in natural sequence. I have no words at my command with which to adequately urge the necessity of an organized and an individual effort to promote thrift. Sane optimism and self-confidence are admirable national qualities, and should be the order of the day."

Laundries and Crime

Among the many minor aids to the detection of crime possessed by Scotland Yard authorities none is more efficient than the "Register of Laundries," a huge brass-bound volume containing lists of all establishments in the kingdom where washing is taken together with the distinctive signs and letters employed by each in marking their customers' linen and underclothing.

Practically every laundry has its own private mark, usually a combination of two or more letters of the alphabet. Following these, on each article sent by a customer to the wash is a number corresponding to the said customer's name in the books of the concern.

It is not difficult to see how this practice may be turned to the advantage of the police, and, as a matter of fact, it has been the means of bringing to justice at one time and another quite a large number of criminals.—London Mail.

"Four o'clock again. This sort of life has got to stop. One never gets enough sleep; one can't work; one makes oneself ill; one has to go to a sanatorium; one is old before his time; one—"

"Oh, Arthur, why don't you say you haven't any more money, and let it go at that."

A Fair Benefactor

British Tommies Will Have Cause for Heartfelt Gratitude to Lady Bacteriologist

In the months to come it is probable that the British "Tommies" will have cause for heartfelt gratitude to Miss Mary Davies, who has been employed as bacteriologist for the Robert Goetz Research Fund. About a year ago Miss Davies inoculated herself with gangrene bacilli in order to demonstrate the efficacy of Taylor's preparation. Since then she has been at work on experiments designed to make cloth antiseptic under any and all conditions, and a recent report from Paris declares that her efforts have been crowned with success. It is said that clothing for the British soldiers is now being subjected to the Davies antiseptic process, and if tests on a large scale are as successful as recent experiments would indicate, the mortality rate among the British wounded is certain to be greatly diminished. As is well known, a "clean" wound not in a vital spot heals quickly and completely, and it is infection rather than the wound itself that is responsible for the great majority of deaths or amputation due to such wounds. Pieces of dirty cloth shot into the body constitute in war the most prolific cause of infection. Cloth treated by the process invented by Miss Davies is said to remain sterile for months, although the uniforms are subjected to all kinds of dirt and germs. Another virtue claimed for the process is that it does not irritate the skin, and one which will be hailed with joy by the soldiers, is that body lice will not linger on a person wearing such clothing. In the trenches body lice are almost universal, and any scheme for eradicating these pests would in itself cause the Tommies to rise en masse, and bless the name of Mary Davies. The young woman scientist is connected with the Ris-Orange Hospital, of which Dr. Joseph A. Blake, the noted American surgeon, is the chief.

Evolution of the Watch

Pope Sylvester II. May Have Been the Inventor of the First Timepiece

Nobody knows who invented the watch. Laborious research by antiquarians in all ages has so far failed to reveal anything which would serve as a basis for definite historical fact. From the somewhat disjointed and cloudy documentary evidence in the museums of Italy, France and England it is conjectured that the inventor was the monk Gerbert, better known in history as Pope Sylvester II. The only thing definitely established by research is that watches did not come into use until the close of the tenth or the beginning of the eleventh century, soon after Gerbert's accession to the papal throne.

The earliest watches were little different from the small table clocks of today. The case was in the shape of a cylindrical box, generally of metal chased and gilded, and usually with a hinged lid on one side to inclose the dial. The lid was engraved and, as a rule, pierced with an aperture over each hour through which the position of the hand might be seen. Most watches were provided with a bell on which the hours were sounded in regular progression. There would seem to have been little or no change in the character of the watch until the fourteenth century, when a gradual reduction in the size, brought about by the craftsmen of Nuremberg, culminated in the oval-shaped hand timepiece aptly described as the Nuremberg egg.

Queen Elizabeth owned upward of 100 richly chased and jeweled watches, many of them bearing a likeness of the favorite of the hour. The nineteenth century saw the introduction of a watch which was to remain in vogue for more than 100 years, and which for downright ugliness never has been approached. Everybody familiar with Hogarth's portraits of the early Georgian period, or with the illustrations to the works of Fielding, Smollett, Charles Lever and Thackeray, remembers the cumbersome, round-faced, weighty affairs, wound with a key and satirically known to humorists of those days as the "frying-pan."

Right up to the middle of the 19th century the hand-made English lever, perfected by Dent and Benson, of London, maintained its vogue; until American genius in Aaron Denison, of Boston, evolved the idea of applying machinery to watch-making. Denison's theory that special machines for watch-making might be substituted for human skill and insure such uniformity of product that the different parts of watches would be virtually interchangeable, was put into practice with such success that it revolutionized the industry and brought good timepieces at a reasonable price within the reach of all.

The passengers on a steamer were having a rough passage, and among them were a judge and a barrister. The latter was very ill. The judge, perceiving his friend's plight, inquired solicitously, "Can I do anything for you?"

"Yes," replied the barrister. "You might overrule this motion!"

Mrs. Blueblood: We dined al fresco last evening.

Mrs. Newrich: I think I've met him somewhere. Is his first name Albert or Alfred?

A Fitting Memorial

Window of Ypres Glass for Canadians Unveiled at Chislehurst, Sussex

A window containing fragments of glass from a Ypres cathedral has been unveiled as a heritage in Craft (chapel) at Chislehurst, Sussex, in honor of the Canadians who fell on the Ypres salient in France. On the stained glass is an inscription within a wreath, reading:

"This glass is the gift of a private in the 29th (Vancouver) Battalion of the Canadian expeditionary forces. It is from the Church of St. Martin at Ypres, and is placed here in memory of the officers, N.C.O.'s and men of the battalion who fell in defense of the Ypres salient during April to July, 1916."

The glass was donated by Fte. W. H. Kipps, Maj. G. I. Gwynn attended the service on behalf of the battalion.

Feeding in Open vs. Barn Feeding

"Live stock holdings in central Alberta have increased by twenty-five per cent. in the last few years," says Mr. G. H. Hutton, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Lacombe. "At our farm," Mr. Hutton continued, "we have experimented in wintering cattle in the open, with no other protection than that afforded by bluffs and hayracks. We have fed five cars of cattle in this way and turned them off finished in February. The thermometer has gone to fifty degrees below zero, and yet in some years we have gained 320 pounds per head in winter feeding. On two and three-year-olds we have gained 420 pounds from May to February. We have contrasted farm and open feeding for three years, and in all cases greater gains were made in the open."

The Empire And the War

From a Speech by Lord Rosebery at Edinburgh

The Prussians, I have no doubt, calculated—but their calculations in all that related to human nature and human sympathy, to human loyalty and human liberty, were completely fallacious—that the declaration of war would dissolve the loose bonds that united the empire, that there would be no cohesion, no abatement, no coolness, possibly no aggression, but the Prussian bowed better than he knew. When he was attacking us he was contemplating and uniting our empire in a way which had never been known before, but with God helping us will last, to the end of time. There is nothing which unites us so closely as bloodshed in a common and righteous cause. That is the mortar upon which the empire is based. From now, henceforth, and for ever, the empire is one.

As things are now I can only see one possibility of anything relaxing the ties which unite the different parts of the empire. It is this. In some irresponsible quarters I hear some babble of an immediate peace, a sort of "as you were" peace, which would enable the Prussians to remain in the field as they are, ready and prepared, with the experience that they have gained and with their resources not much impaired, to begin at the earliest opportunity a friendly antagonism against civilization. Is it really supposed that we have undergone the sacrifices that we have made, that we have shed our dearest blood by hundreds and thousands, that we have been paying over five millions a day—and shall continue to do so as long as it is necessary—is it really supposed we have done all this in order to leave Prussia the devilish power she has been in the past? (Never, air, and cheers.)

I venture to say this. I cannot, of course, speak on behalf of the dominions—if there was a minister (which, thank God, there is not), so cowardly, so shortsighted and impetuous as to conclude a peace of that kind, I am afraid then our dominions and our Britons beyond the seas would say: "A country so governed is not a country to adhere to; we had better find some better statement of our own."

Even apart from that argument, are there not a thousand reasons why nothing should make us pause? We are fighting for a cause that is not dependence and the liberties and welfare of ourselves and our allies, we are fighting for every small nation in the world; for the independence of every nation, however guaranteed by treaty. Look at Sweden. Look at Norway. Look at Denmark. Look at Holland. Look at Belgium. Five small kingdoms, every one of them outraged by German power, whose fate if Germany should succeed in this war, would not be difficult to foresee. We are fighting for them. We are fighting for the masses of our merchant seamen, who are unrelentingly pursued on the high seas. We are fighting for Sweden, who at any moment may find herself in the same position. We are fighting for every neutral nation. We are fighting for one that is not weak, the United States, for if we were vanquished in the war—which Heaven forbid the United States would be the next to suffer from the aggressive and unscrupulous power of Prussia.

Now, then, we stand firm and square to our enemies, determined to vanquish and rather to die than be vanquished; but we have no doubt of the coming victory any more than we question the humanly speaking, eternity of the future of the British Empire. (Cheers.)

Wireless Device for Moving Trains

Mail Reiley, telegraph operator in the commercial offices of the Canadian Pacific railway in Calgary, a young man who has always had an inventive genius, to the discovery of a wireless device that will communicate with trains moving with great speed.

The tests have been carried on between Calgary and Edmonton, and it is said that each test has indicated the extraordinary features of the invention. "Once perfected, the device will serve as a main dispatching instrument and will probably be employed in the case of collisions and many other forms of wreck which have been due to the fact that operators and dispatchers heretofore have not been able to communicate with fast moving trains."

THE MOTHERS' STORY

Tell a story mother dear
Of the war across the sea.
Said a little lad whose years were ten
As he gazed at her lovingly.

And tell me truly mother
What does all this fighting bring.
And why do we send our brothers
Is it only for our King?

She drew him fondly to her
Held him in love's embrace.
As she tried to paint for his little mind
What the blood of man had traced.

She told of the dead and dying
Of the scream of shot and shell;
And where death always hovers
But where only heroes fell.

Not only were they fighting
For their King and country too
But for Liberty and justice
That should reign the whole world thru.

His eyes with wonder brightened
As she told him passionately.
Of a bold and desperate monarch
In a land just o'er the sea.

Who had torn the crown from Belgium's brow
Without one backward glance.
And had laid in desolation
The hearths and homes in France.

How he'd swept both men and women
To the depth of the cruel sea.
Just to wear the Crown of England;
And to make her bow the knee.

Just to satisfy a passion
Are all these thousands dead
Just to strike at the heart of England
And to reign in England's stead

The child said listen mother dear
And tears filled his eyes of blue.
Some day I'll be a soldier,
And I'll fight for England too.

The mother's heart within her sank
As she watched his childish face
For she knew he like his father
Would answer the call of his race.

Could I give this only child of mine
Were he a grown up man
To be crushed by the heel of tyrant
And to die in a foreign land?

As yet she knew the answer
As she folded him close to her breast
I could wish no nobler end for him
Than to die a Soldier's death

But she prayed to God above her
That e'er that day might be
That peace should over all the earth,
To reign Eternally

Buy an Irrigated Farm FROM THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY BECAUSE

Irrigation makes the farmer independent of rainfall, and insures good crops, not occasionally, but every year.

Irrigation makes possible the successful culture of alfalfa, the king of fodders, which insures good returns in dairying and mixed farming.

Irrigation means intensive farming and close settlement with all the advantages of a densely populated agricultural community.

Irrigation in the Canadian Pacific Railway Irrigation Block is no longer an experiment, the years that it has been tried having absolutely demonstrated its success wherever intelligently applied.

This is the most liberal offer of irrigated farm land on record

Tact Is Needed in Imparting Good Manners to Children

Good breeding, like charity, should begin at home. The days are past when children used to rise the moment their parents entered the room where they were and stand until they received permission to sit. But the mistake is now made usually in the other direction, of allowing to small boys and girls too much license to disturb the peace of the household. I think the best way to train children in courtesy would be to observe towards them a scrupulous politeness. I would go so far as to say that we should make it as much a point to listen to children without interrupting them, and to answer them sincerely and respectfully, as if they were grown up. And, indeed, many of their wise, quaint sayings are far better worth listening to than the commonplaces of the average caller. Of course, to allow uninterrupted chatter would be to surrender the repose of the household, but it is possible to teach children in turn scrupulously to respect the convenience of others, and to be silent.

The best brought-up family of children I ever knew were educated on the principle of always commending them when it was possible to do so, and letting silence be the reproof of any wrong-doing which was not really serious. I have heard the children of this household, when their mother had failed to say any word of commendation after some social occasion, ask anxiously as possible, "What was it mamma? I know something was wrong. Didn't we treat the other children well, or were we too noisy?" In that household reproof was never bestowed unsought—only commendation, of whatever it was possible to commend, was gratuitous.—Exchange.

Warts are unsightly blemishes, and corns are painful growths. Hollaway's Corn Cure will remove them.

A French Spy Strainer

The tightest spy strainer in all Europe is at Pontarlier, on the French border of Switzerland. They catch stien your soul, those dozen Frenchmen at Pontarlier. They've got niches in their guns. They have caught spies who have been shot, and they are trying to catch more.

"It's a matter of life and death here," explained, in a half hearted apology, a whiskered French officer. "We are constantly sending our spies into Germany by this route, and the Germans are always trying to get their spies into France through this station. We're out for blood here."

Moslem Divorce

Moslem writers and their supporters in this country frequently emphasize the superior status of the women of Islam in comparison with the western sisters. Some recent divorce court proceedings bring to light the fact at least that when a dissolution of the marriage relation is desired in Moslem lands the husband is the only one possessing the right of divorce. The woman's only recourse appears to be to change her religion, by which means she automatically disposes of her husband.—Literary Digest.

Will Prevent Aliens Homesteading
Dominion land agents have been notified by the Interior department at Ottawa that hereafter no person who was not a British subject at the beginning of the war will be permitted to enter for a government homestead. Subjects of allied or neutral countries are exempt from this regulation. The effort is to prevent alien enemies from securing free Canadian land.

A CAUSE OF INDIGESTION

People Who Complain of This Trouble Usually Are Thin-Blooded

Thin blooded people usually have stomach troubles. They seldom recognize the fact that thin blood is the cause of the trouble, but it is. In fact, thin, impure blood is the most common cause of stomach trouble; it affects the digestion very quickly. The glands that furnish the digestive fluid are diminished in their activity; the stomach muscles are weakened, and there is a loss of nerve force. In this state of health nothing will more quickly restore the appetite, the digestion, and normal nutrition than good, rich, red blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red, and this enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles and awakens the normal activity of the glands that supply the digestive fluids. The first sign of improving health is an improved appetite, and soon the effect of these blood-making pills is evident throughout the system. You find that what you eat does not distress you, and that you are strong and vigorous instead of irritable and listless. This is proved by the case of Mrs. J. Harris, Gerard St., Toronto, who says: "About three years ago I was seized with a severe attack of indigestion and vomiting. My food seemed to turn sour as soon as I ate it, and I would turn so deathly sick that sometimes I would fall on the floor after vomiting. I tried a lot of home remedies, but they did not help me. Then I went to a doctor, who gave me some powders but they seemed actually to make me worse instead of better. This went on for nearly two months and by that time my stomach was in such a weak state that I could not keep down a drink of water, and I was wasted to a skeleton and felt that life was not worth living. I was not married at this time and one Sunday evening on the way to church with my intended husband I was taken with a bad spell on the street. He took me to a drug store where the clerk fixed up something to take, and my intended got me a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. By the end of the first week I could feel some improvement from the use of the Pills, and I gladly continued taking them until every symptom of the trouble was gone, and I was again enjoying the best of health. These Pills are now my standby and I tell all my friends what they did for me."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

When a mother detects from the writhings and fretting of a child that worms are troubling it she can procure a better remedy than Miller's Worm Powders, which are guaranteed to totally expel worms from the system. They may cause vomiting, but this need cause no anxiety, because it is but a manifestation of their thorough work. No worms can long exist where these Powders are used.

"The warring nations," said Mrs. Twickembury, "seem to be showing a wonderful vituperative power."

Regretted His Kindness

Captain Best of the Royal Fusiliers told a crowded audience at Llangollen recently that when the kaiser was six years old he not only had a lame arm, but a lame leg also. The British fleet was in the Baltic, off the shores of Germany, and the future kaiser had a keen desire to see the ironclads. He was taken to the coast and rowed in a small boat alongside the fleet. A naval officer was told off to carry young Wilhelm up the gangway.

"That British officer," added Captain Best, "was my father, and I have heard him say many times since: 'What a pity I did not throw the little beggar overboard.'"

Alberta's Prosperity

The provincial statistician for the province of Alberta estimates that the wheat raised this year has been over 41,000,000 bushels, the total value of which will be $72,625,000. The oats crop is 72,000,000 bushels, with a value of $9,600,000. Barley has a value of $9,000,000, potatoes $6,000,000, livestock $6,000,000, livestock slaughtered and sold $23,030,000, dairy products $12,500,000. The total valuation for 1916 for farm crops is $174,727,650, and for livestock $118,098,685.

Canadians to Build French Railways

Railways in France to be constructed from material furnished from Canada will be built by Canadians. This country has already two railway construction corps in France, and these will be added to as soon as possible. Col. One of the Canadian railway corps is commanded by Col. Ramsay, formerly of the C.P.R.

Russian Troops See British in Pictures

Forces of Czar Are Brought Into Contact With Movies For First Time

An officer of the British army has recently concluded a tour of the Russian front with a cinematograph. He conducted a show called "Britain Prepared," a film showing the British army in the making, and he displayed his pictures to scores of thousands of Russian troops, many of whom had never even seen a cinematograph show before.

It can hardly be that a film has ever been shown under such strange conditions. More than once the display, just behind the firing line, was under shell fire. On another occasion the show had to be stopped, all lights turned out and the audience of some thousands ordered to disperse on account of the approach of a Zeppelin. The films were shown in stuffy theatres and in the open, sometimes in the rain, but with the interested Russian troops enthusiastically waiting and watching.

Not one in a hundred thousand Russian soldiers had ever seen a British Tommy. The film showed these soldiers of the Czar, precisely what their British allies look like, and gave them a full realization of his training, equipment and work.

The new British film of the battle of the Somme is also to be displayed to the Russian army. Then the Russian troops will know more about the actual fighting in France. Preparations are being made, too, for a film of the Russian army, which will be displayed to British troops in England and in France.

It is a curious thing how little many of the allied soldiers know about the troops of our own nationalities who are fighting the same fight. The allies are drawn up in a huge circle around Europe, the Russians on the north and east, the Italians on the south, and the British and French on the west. They all, except the Italians, know much of their German opponents, but little of one another. The French have some idea of the Russians, for there are now a considerable number of them with the French army in France, although there are still hundreds of thousands of Frenchmen who have not laid eyes on them. Very few British soldiers have ever seen a Russian. The Italians know nothing of the appearance of scarcely any of their allies, except, of course, the Italians fighting at Saloniki with the British and French. There are, however, comparatively few Italian troops there. The Russians have seen nothing of either British, French or Italians except the few British who are handling armored motor cars in Russia. By the use of the cinema, this condition is being changed. The display of the film "Britain Prepared" has shown the Russian army the British soldier in training. The Somme film will show him in action.

The showing of the film has proved a wonderful success. It has visibly brought the two armies closer together. The Russian army, officers and men, showed great enthusiasm for England and England's troops, and their confidence in the ultimate success of the allies was strengthened.

In another way the same thing is being done. The British army is sending postal card greetings to the Russians by hundreds of thousands. The cards show types of British soldiers in full dress uniforms—red coats, beaver hats and all—and they are being distributed throughout the Russian army. On each card there is an inscription in Russian and in English, as follows:

"Forward, comrades! Forward, friends! Let us struggle on undaunted—struggle on till death in the name of Christ and Truth."

"From your friend, soldier of the Third Division."

"Christ is Risen!"

The cards have made a strong appeal to the Russian troops and plans are in the making for their return. The 9th Russian Division, for instance, will send greetings to the 9th British.

Throughout his tour of the Russian front the British officer in charge of the "Britain Prepared" film was most cordially received. The pictures were seen by thousands of men. At one show there were ten thousand spectators. Scarcely less warm was the reception accorded the officer's soldier servant, a private. He was a fine type of a British Tommy. He picked up some Russian and proved most popular, as well as an object of universal curiosity. On one occasion, by request of the general commanding, he was paraded, all by himself, before a company of Russians, who gazed upon this visiting warrior with rapt attention, to his great embarrassment.

It is not difficult to imagine that the effect of this display of British films, and of Russian films in France later, will have a far-reaching effect. Certainly it will work for unity amongst the allies. Displaying the magnitude of British preparations and the magnificence of British fighting as will be shown in the famous Somme film, will lend even greater confidence to the Russian troops.

Minard's Liniment Cures Distemper.

The Finest Music

But the finest music in the room is that which streams out to the ear of the spirit in many an exquisite strain from the hanging shell of books on the opposite wall. Every volume there is an instrument which some melodist of the mind created and set vibrating with music as a flower shakes out its perfume or a star shakes out its light. Only listen, and they soothe all care, as though the silken-soft leaves of poppies had been made vocal and poured into the ear.—James Lane Allen.

Ameer of Afghanistan Baffles the Kaiser

Secret Mission Sent By Germany Meets With Utter Failure

The London Chronicle of November 30 contains the following: Mr. Chamberlain, replying in the House of Commons to Sir Edwin Cornwall, said: "In the spring of 1915 the German Government decided to send a mission to Afghanistan. For the purpose they selected from among a number of Indian anarchists in Berlin a young landowner from Oudh, who posed to them as a ruling chief, and as such was received in audience by the Emperor.

"This person was accompanied by a party of German officers, some Turks and another Indian anarchist, a Moslem. The principal German officer, Lieut. von Hentig, was the bearer of a letter from the German Chancellor to the Ameer, in which the latter was invited to advise the pretended Rajah how best India might be liberated from British tyranny.

"Von Hentig was also charged to make important revelations to the Ameer regarding the relations which the German Government hoped would in the future exist between Afghanistan, Germany, Austria-Hungary and Turkey.

"The mission broke up in Persia, and succeeded in making its way in small parties into Afghanistan in the late summer. They were arrested on arrival and eventually conveyed to Kabul towards the end of the year. There is reason to believe that the Ameer and his people quickly apprised these Germans and the Indian adventurers by whom they were accompanied at their true value.

It is true that the intervention of Turkey under German influence created a complication and placed his Majesty the Ameer in an exceedingly difficult position.

"But at the outbreak of the war his Majesty gave the Viceroy the most solemn assurances of his intention to preserve the neutrality of his country, and it is with great satisfaction that I acknowledge on behalf of his Majesty's Government the loyalty of the Ameer to his pledged word—as sacred to the true Moslem as to ourselves.

"His Majesty has firmly refused the inducements—as seductive as they are unrealizable—held out to him to induce him to forsake his ally, and has used his influence to prevent disturbances on the frontier.

"The Ameer dismissed the mission in May last. It would not be in the public interest to state what has become of the various members, but some of them have been captured by the Russians and the British after leaving Afghanistan.

The estates of the Indian landowner have been sequestered by the Government of India. "Letters were also addressed by the German Chancellor to a number of ruling chiefs."

WOMEN'S NERVES

Women, more than men, have excitable nerves, because tiring work and physical strain tax their more delicate nervous systems and bring premature age and chronic weakness—unless treated intelligently.

Drug-laden pills and alcoholic concoctions cannot build up a woman's strength, but the concentrated medicinal food properties in

Babylonian Extravagance To Increase Naval Patrols

New York City, Fighting the High Cost of Living, Spends Money Like Water

New York is rolling, revelling, rolling in wealth, says an United Press writer there.

New York's banks today hold reserves of $816,794,200, and from every quarter of the globe money is pouring in—actual yellow gold—by the million to be changed from the coin of other nations in the U.S.A.

Wall street has become a gambling table on which is being shown money from the earnings, winnings and savings of Americans and money from the coffers of kings.

While the large majority of New York's six millions are fighting the universal desperate battle with the cost of living, on the surface it appears that everybody has money to spend. They are spending it for necessities and luxuries.

Forty or more blocks in Manhattan are given over entirely to the ancient trade, wine, woman and song. War bride dividends have given night time Broadway a new life. Men whose business it is to make money from spenders say they never were able to take so much of it before.

Ancient Babylon could be set down inside New York's winter pleasure grounds without being noticed. Nebuchadnezzar wouldn't have a reputation outside of his own block.

Cabarets have sprung up like mushrooms and dance halls thrive as in any new gold camp.

"Business is three times as big as the biggest we ever saw before, this season," said the manager of the largest cabaret in the city.

Hotels are crowded, theatres are sold out. Crowds fill the department stores.

Warehouses are depleted of stocks and deliveries are far behind.

Canadians Are Wanted to Man Atlantic Coast Cruiser Fleet

Following the fleet of German submarines operating in the North Atlantic trade routes, the entire fleet patrolling the North Atlantic, and the eastern shores of Canada is to be augmented immediately.

The vessel which increased patrol service will be manned by Canadians, as far as possible, and the call is issued for men with previous sea training, up to the age of 45.

A feature of the appeal is for boys from 15 to 18, who will train with the fleet. Commodore W. J. Jarvis is naval recruiting officer for Ontario, with headquarters in Toronto.

Ashtma Victim.—The man or woman subject to ashtma is indeed a victim. What can be more terrifying than to suddenly be seized with paroxysms of choking, which seem to threaten the existence of life itself? From such a condition Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Ashtma Remedy has brought many to completely restored health and happiness. It is known and named in every section of this broad land.

Would Insist on That

He had proposed and been accepted, "I suggest," he said, "that we without a bit of the fuss-and-feather business of marriage; we will go away, unattended by ourselves, dear; there will be no flourish, no cards, no ceremony."

When upon the girl indignantly interrupted with the observation: "My dear, we may dispense with the flourish, but I shall certainly insist upon a ceremony."—Boston Transcript.

Insomnia

WE can live without food, but not without sleep. Many will recall Dr. Tannin's 40 days without food, but who could live a single week without sleep and retain their reason?

It is during sleep that the nervous system is restored, and the nerve force consumed by the activities of the day is replenished.

Sleeplessness is one of the first and one of the most torturing symptoms of nervous exhaustion.

With sleeplessness you find nervous headaches, tired, wornout feelings, indigestion, lack of energy and strength. You are nervous and irritable, and cannot compose yourself to rest or sleep.

The nerve force in the body is at low ebb, and the feeble, wasted nerve cells must be nourished back to health and strength by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

You must not confuse this food cure with drugs taken to produce sleep, for it works in an entirely different way. It is not a quick relief, but a restorative, upbuilding treatment. As the nerves are revitalized sleep comes naturally with its soothing influence and human recovery.

Sleeplessness

Mrs. Edson Brock, Tremholmeville, Que., writes: "I want to state that I have never taken anything to do me so much good as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I am never without it in the house. I was so nervous I could not sleep, but now I sleep soundly at night and wake up feeling refreshed and ready for the day's work. I used the Nerve Food for months, and found that it just suits my needs, and has built up the system wonderfully. I know it is Dr. Chase's Nerve Food that has brought about the great change in my condition, and I am thankful for it."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Do not be talked into accepting a substitute. Imitations disappoint.
